Condition Of Streets Topic At Town Meeting

Group Attends County School Board Meeting

A group of concerned citizens residing in Bayside Park and Springwood Park attended the special meeting of the Hancock School Board last Friday to support the proposed construction of a high school adjacent to the present Gulfview school. Word had reached them that possibly one member of the board would be against the site and the group came to protest in the event of a defeated motion.

The citizens were allowed to express their feelings throughout the meeting. As one woman said, "My kids have to ride too far to go to school now - all the way to Hancock North Central. We need that high school at Gulfview!"

Ed Ortle, president of the board, presented a letter from Walter Muller from the State Board of Education recommending the Gulfview site. Mullar had inspected the proposed location as well as other property with Ortle and Eugene Lodner, Superintendent of Education. Ortle noted that as the board already owned two acres adjoining Gulfview school, this was the most feasible proposal. The Board will have to purchase an additional eighteen acres.

Red Davis, board member from Pearllington opposed the site and expressed his desire to have the board visit other property before making a decision. Eric Larsen, another board member felt that the board was moving too fast in planning this high school.

However, Ortle argued that the board had made the necessary inspection tours and that it was now in a financial position to go ahead with the school project.

Lugus Necaise, made a motion to pass the proposal and to recommend the school be built adjoining Gulfview. Eric Larsen seconded the motion and the board passed the proposal unanimously.

Walter Phillips, attorney for the Board, made it clear that before purchasing the remaining eighteen acres an appraiser from outside of Hancock County would be hired to assess the value of the land and the Board would go by his decision.

FAIR CATALOG

Just off the press is the new Hancock County Fair Catalog. Those desiring a copy may have one free by going to the Agriculture Department on Necaise Avenue. The County Agent's office is open daily between the hours of 8:00 a.m. until 5:00 p.m. However, the office is closed for lunch between 12:00 noon and 1:00.

Potholes on the streets of Bay St. Louis was the main complaint issued at the town meeting last Wednesday night in the Bay Junior High auditorium. In answer to numerous questions concerning what the city would do to remedy this situation, Mayor Carver said that the administration was doing the best they could with the funds available. He stated that the city had recently purchased a roller and a crew would be set up to maintain the city streets.

The Mayor emphasized however, that many of the potholes were not included in the street program and that Gulf Paving Company was not responsible for the present condition.

Another important issue brought to the attention of the Mayor and City Commissioners was the question, "What will be done for the annexed area of Bay St. Louis?" One citizen complained that the annexed area is not equipped with sewerage and gas but was paying the same taxes as those receiving these services. William Frisbie, Commissioner of Utilities said that the City had applied to HUD for matching funds to provide sewerage, gas and water for the annexed area. He also reminded the residents that they are not paying for sewerage, gas and water but that the residents of Bay St. Louis pay a service charge for these utilities. It does not come from regular taxes.

These issues were brought up at the question and answer period that followed reports given by Mayor Warren Carver, City Commissioners, Andre Arceneaux, and William Frisbie, Russell Elliott, president of the Board of Supervisors, and Peck Mauffray, Supervisor from Beat 3. Joe Cupvas, Supervisor from Beat 4, and city attorney Gerald Cox, were both present but did not address the meeting.

Andre Arceneaux, stated that although last year was a very trying year, the city had met all of its financial obligations. He also reported that as a result of Hurricane Camille, the city has lost a great deal of revenue from tax assessments.

In his report to the people, William Frisbie said that the new computer system has made many mistakes in issuing bills for water and gas. However, he said that he hopes the situation will be remedied shortly.

Mayor Carver presented the meeting with a detailed outline of the proposed tax program for the coming year and announced that the ad valorem tax had been raised 12%.

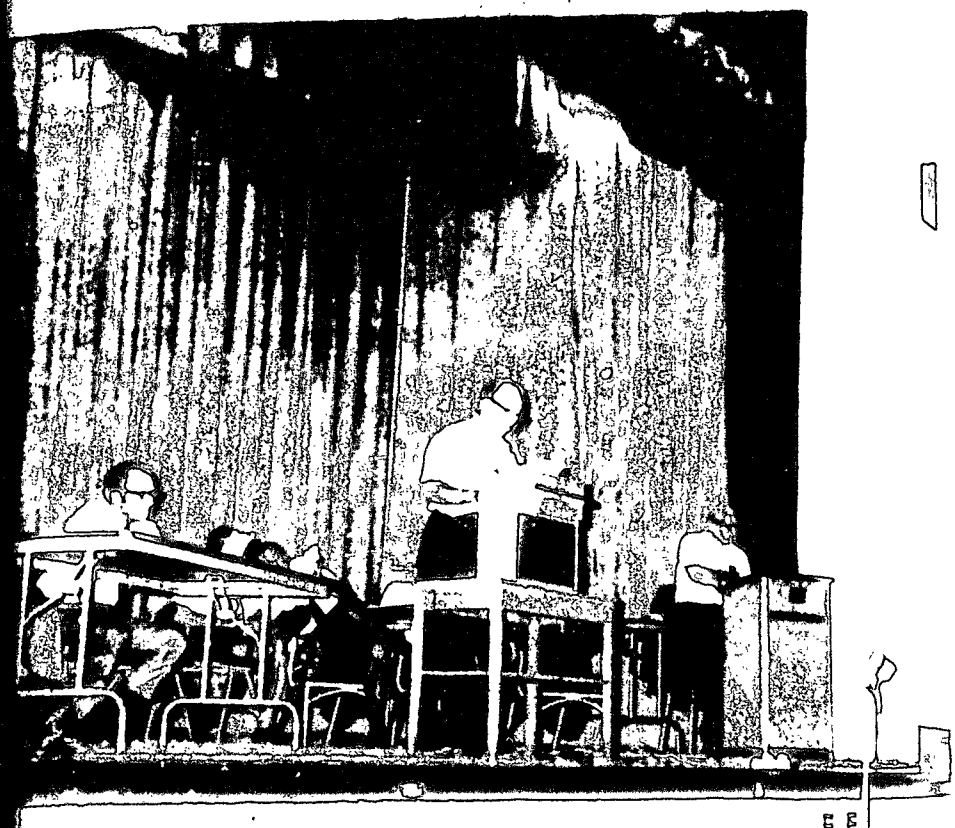

Russell Elliott gave a report on the proposed date to begin repairing the beach road. Elliott stated that it would be at least three months before work would begin and the contract would contain two phases:

Phase One: Repairing the road from the center of Clermont Harbor to the Yacht Club.

Phase Two: From the Yacht Club to Jordan River.

According to Elliott, the delay has been caused by a lack of funds. "The money for the beach road is originating in Washington, and the County will not have to pay one cent for these repairs", Elliott stated.

He also emphasized that it was the Board of Supervisors, not the city administration that was responsible for repairing the beach road.

Breland, Assistant President, and Preserves, Assistant Vice President.

Wagner, the architect who is renovating the bank, is making the bank both functional and attractive. Vinyl wall paper, colored and coarse harmonizing wall with gray wood work. An array of orange adds in the horizontal panel of the lobby giving a sense of depth. Pile glass across the front affords a view of the harbor and the Bay of St. Louis, the bridge and a century-old oak tree that survived the hurricane. Some marble used which serves to make the interior with the of this interesting old building has at its a highly polished column. Exterior windows are in the Roman with boy-tions center.

Costs Safe vault, and still used in that was in use when first opened for business in the morning of October 1903. The machine also has been and open with a door plus a "crank" was bought "second hand" when the Merchants Bank & Trust organized by placing boards across two barrels for paying and receiving counters. Capital stock of the bank was $20,000.00 divided into 400 shares at $50.00 par value. It was not long before the book value of the shares went up and shares sold at $75.00.

This bank was organized as a result of a conversation in the office of The Sea Coast Echo, Walter J. Cox, Sr., and Charles G. Morcon felt that the people of this area should have a second bank. At that time Hancock Bank established in 1899 was Bay St. Louis' oldest bank. Later L. M. Cox, John Osolinach, Louis Spoto, R. C. Engman, Judge John A. Breath, L.H. Fairchild, A. F. Cameron, John K. Edwards, and Gaston C. Gardebled assisted in obtaining a charter.

Rapid Growth To date the Merchants Bank & Trust Company has four locations: Bay St. Louis, established in 1903; Waveland in 1958; Gulfport in 1967 and the new bank in the Hardy Court area which opened this August. The first statement of the Merchants Bank, published October 15, 1903, showed undivided profits $185.36, individual deposits $9,000.33; loans and discounts $9,055.86 and cash on hand $5,186.93. Total deposits as of June 30, 1970 $15,577,249.41 and total assets $17,117,494.54.

Employees Although the Merchants Bank & Trust Company is Bay St. Louis second oldest bank, it is in a sense a "young" bank. Bill Breland down in Waveland has been with the bank for 12 years. His is the longest record of employment. Henry Monti is the second in seniority with an 8-year employment record. The Bay St. Louis bank has four teller windows, and 8 employees, one of which is the gracious receptionist, Dot Russell.

Inspection Made Of City Paving

An inspection of paving done under contract between the City of Bay St. Louis and the Gulf Paving Company took place on Tuesday morning and no serious deficiencies were reported, according to Mayor Warren J. Carver and Commissioner Andre Arceneaux who were among those on the inspection tour. Others on the inspection tour included Joe Richard, the original project design engineer who was employed by the city, and two representatives of the Gulf Paving Company, Jim Simpson and Thurman Porter, inspector for Gulf Paving.

Approval and acceptance by the city of the work will be required prior to making the final payment on this contract. Carver said deficiencies were noted and would be corrected as soon as possible.

History of the Building Southron R. Duroi, professional architect and rector of Christ Episcopal church was the architect. Ferdinand Remond was the builder and contractor and the lowest of three bidders in the sum of $9,928.73. With the addition of a new safe the total cost was $10,000.00. On October 28, 1924 the building was entirely remodeled. The improvement cost several times the price of the original building. Director at that time said: "The bank's over-investing business justified the expenditure." Following Hurricane Camille's ravages many repairs were necessary including a new roof, exterior painting, interior repairs to both lobby and upstairs, new carpeting, drapes, windows bring the cost of repairs and replacements within the neighborhood of $40,000 according to the bank's president Allison.

NASA-MTF Holds "Kick-Off" Meeting

The "kick-off" meeting of the 1971 Combined Agencies Campaign at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Mississippi Test Facility was highlighted recently with the crowning of Miss Martha Gill as Miss MTF Torch for 1971.

Karl F. Eldund, of the General Electric Company, and acting general chairman for this year's campaign, opened the meeting with pertinent facts about this year's drive. Following was an introduction of special guests and representatives of the United Fund from Hancock, Harrison and South Pearl River Counties and the Greater New Orleans area.

Following Eldund's remarks, Henry F. Autor, deputy manager of MTF, addressed the gathering on behalf of Jackson M. Balch, manager of MTF and executive chairman of the campaign. Autor focused his talk on the benefits received from the contributions made to the United Fund, pointing out that not only welfare organizations shared in the money, but organizations that were available to everyone, such as the Boy Scouts.

Mel Leavitt, of New Orleans' television station WDSU, was invited to the stand as special guest. Leavitt directed his comments toward achieving goals, using the United Fund goal as an example of a goal which cannot fall back upon past records. During his remarks Leavitt made recognition of two guests in the audience, Del Williams and Jake Krupp, of the New Orleans Saints football team.

Representatives from the seventeen organizations at MTF both industry and government, were introduced. Each organization has its own set goal of contributions which will go to make up the combined goal of $30,000 set for the '71 campaign.

Eldund then presented four young ladies selected by their respective organizations to vie for the title of "Miss MTF Torch". The candidates were: Susan Carter, representing NASA MTF; Martha Gill, of Harrison Security Services; Diana Summers, representing General Electric Company; and Edie Reolou, North American Rockwell Corp. Each of the candidates gave a short speech on why she wanted to represent MTF as Miss Torch for 1971.

Following a meeting of the panel of judges, Miss Martha Gill was selected as Miss MTF Torch, with Edie Reolou as runner-up. As Miss Torch, Miss Gill will represent MTF at various meetings and activities associated with the United Fund.

This year's Miss Torch has worked at the facility for two years as a receptionist for Harrison Security Services. She is a resident of McNoll, Mississippi.

vention held in Washington D. C. Dec. 7-11, 1969, as Hancock County representative. At the Dec. meeting of the Board, reports were given by Donald Famularo, and Frank Lee on Miss. Farm Bureau convention in Jackson and our Secretary reported the mem- bership had reached 525 paid members. Our goal had been reached and exceeded. Every- body was pleased. Our planning and efforts had paid off.

A new goal was immediately set. That was to have our office building built before our annual meeting this year. Camille was no longer an excuse. So we set out plans to a few con- tractors. As you can see we not only reached our goal two months ahead of schedule, but it is twice the size we origi- nally planned it to be. 12 board meetings were held during the past year, with an average of 11 board mem- bers present per meeting. Jan. meeting, I gave a report on my trip to Washington D. C. The Secretary reported total members 1970 -- 576 members. Compared to 410 for 1969, a gain of 166 members. Also 10, 1971 members had already been written to date. Bids were opened for our office building: Korman Kahl, Hilton Shaw, and J. Q. Ladner. These were the only bids received. Your board awarded the contract to the low- est bidder, Hilton Shaw.

Many meetings, leadership conferences, and youth safety seminar, were held in Hatties- burg and Jackson. At all these meetings Hancock County was well represented by either my- self, board members, and com- mittee chairmen. Secretary, Inc. agent and young adults of the county. In an effort to keep abreast with new developments and at the same time pass on our thoughts and ideas, for a better Farm Bureau. One that will better serve it's members. There has been many days and countless hours of time put in for Hancock Farm Bureau this past year. Not only time, but work a lot of work.

I believe work is a blessing. Work is man's great function. He is nothing, he can do nothing, he can achieve nothing, fulfill nothing without working.

If you are poor-work. If you are rich continue working. If you are burdened with seem- ingly unfair responsibilities, work! If you are happy, keep right on working! Idle- ness gives room for doubts and fears.

If disappointment comes, work! If your health is threat- ened, work. When faith falters- work! When dreams are shattered and hope seems dead- work! Work as if your life were in peril--it really is. No mak- ing up excuses for a world with- out you. Work with faith.

I believe work is the great- est remedy available for both mental and physical afflictions! In Farm Bureau, all work for not one penny of pay. We work for a Farm organization whose principal purpose is to serve the needs of the family farmer who is a member of Farm Bureau. That's what it's all about.

Farm Bureau sponsors two girl scout troops here in Klin, troop 90 and 97. I ask your support and help these leaders and scouts any way you can. Hancock County Farm Bu- reau together with the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce are sponsoring the Hancock County 1st Annual Fair and Livestock Show, Nov. 2-7. Be- come active and support this show. It is a means to show what you and your children can produce and raise in our rural areas of Hancock County. The results of our past planning and hard work are evident.

When all of our 1970 mem- bers renew these memberships, there will be 820 members in our organization in Hancock County, and that total will reach 1000 by Jan. 1, 1971. But today is the last day of our past life. Tomorrow is the last day of the rest of our lives. Tomorrow we wake up at a crossroads, our faith in God, the path we take, and the attitudes that we take, the work that we will do, will determine our happiness, the success of our church and community, our civic organi- zations.

We have to change the things that need changing. We have to accept the things we can not change, and we pray to God for the wisdom to distinguish be- tween the two. It has been a pleasure to serve as your Pres- ident this past year." End of report.

Arrangements of white gladioli and mums decorated the Starita home for the family reception immediately following the ceremony.

The bride's table, overlaid with a lace cloth, held a two tiered wedding cake trimmed with pastel white spun sugar roses and topped with a bride and groom. Silver candelabras holding white tapers were on either side.

Our Opinion Let's Do Our Share

October has been designated Clean-Up Month jointly by the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce and the Bay St. Louis City Council. Civic leaders interested in restoring the area to its former beauty applaud the proclamation and solicit the cooperation of all citizens.

Plans for the Clean-Up and Improvement could well begin now by making an inventory of tools and supplies needed as well as a personal plan where each citizen makes a checklist of what is needed to improve his own property.

A suggested check list is printed below:

1. Is there any litter, cans, or debris on the street in front of your property?
2. Is the ditch in front of your property free of weeds, cans or other debris?
3. If there is a side walk in front on your property has it been edged and swept clean?
4. Do your shrubs need trimming?
5. Do your flower beds need weeding?
6. Has your lawn been mowed? Do leaves need to be raked away?
7. Is there any trash piled around your yard that should be removed?
8. Have you checked your grounds for insect or beetle infestation? Noticed any ant hills?
9. Are you careful to see that garbage containers are removed from the street as soon as they are emptied? If you cannot be at home to remove containers promptly have you considered placing garbage in disposable plastic bags?
10. Are you hoarding a lot of odd bottles or boxes in case you might need them? Chances are you won't -- meanwhile they sit around detracting from the appearance of a place and attracting termites.

LET'S CLEAN UP, FIX UP, PAINT UP AND MAKE OUR AREA BEAUTIFUL.

DEKIE O. PARKER
Assistant Extension Home Economist, Hancock County.

"We Care." That's what nearly 4 million boys and girls across the nation are saying this week.

The 9 to 19 year-old youths do more than just talk about caring. They show their concern through community and project work of numerous kinds.

These boys and girls take advantage of the opportunities provided by the Cooperative Extension Service which is in charge of the 4-H programs in Mississippi.

While adding depth and dimension to their personal development, the 4-Hers get involved in community betterment. Their projects help them learn-by-doing -- how to combat poverty, malnutrition, and the pollution of our environment.

Today, 4-Hers are involved in educational programs with something of interest to all regardless of where they live. About 40 different projects offer them learning opportunities which cover just about

Letters to the editor

Editor, Sea Coast Echo

This is an appeal to all Senior Citizens on low income who feel the installation of sewerage in Waveland, to their homes, will work an extreme hardship in cost and may ultimately be penalized by fine or court involvement, or have payments tacked on to their tax bills at the end of the year. Upon their demise, the State or their relatives will bear the costs of unpaid balance. Giving us the right of choice to refuse connecting, due to age and indigent circumstances, would be easier than requesting a special fund from Congress (appropriation).

Senior citizens, keep on writing your Representatives, don't become discouraged.

Sincerely,
Eleanor Everett McNele,
Waveland, Miss., 39576

BAY ST. LOUIS JAYCEES SAY ... ACTION NEEDED NOW

BEACH ROAD, BAY ST. LOUIS

The Public in Hancock County has lived with an able condition since Hurricane Camille. The Beach Road District of Bay St. Louis is losing untold revenue in this condition.

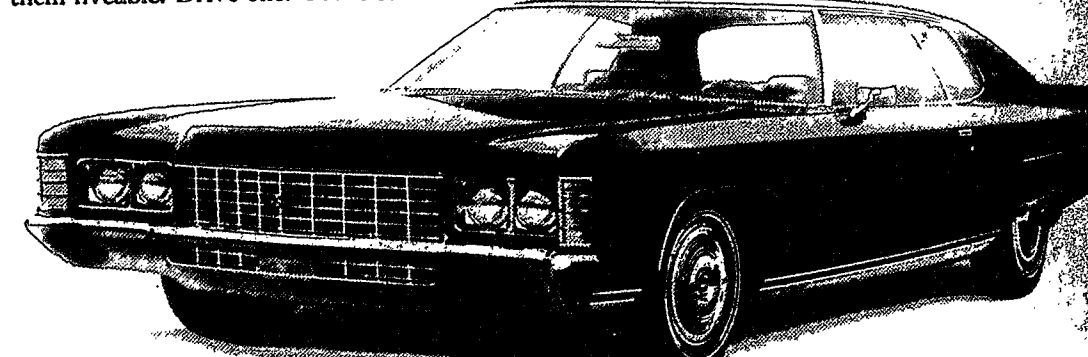

All efforts towards restoration of Beach Road directed now, Mr. Supervisor, what are your plans???

(This advertisement co-sponsored by the Citizens for Better Government)

1971. You've changed. We've changed.

Vega. Not just another little car, but one little car that does everything well. You get more room, more weight and more power than most little cars give you, yet the gas mileage is right in the same neighborhood with the best of them. Vegas come dressed up, too, not stripped to the bone so you have to add a lot to make them liveable. Drive one. You'll see.

Caprice. There's a double layer of steel in the roof, a steel guard beam in each door, power disc brakes in front, a new power ventilation system inside, a wheelbase and two one-half inches longer. You get the look and comfort of a six- or seven-thousand-dollar car, but at Chevrolet prices. And that's the kind of change during these tight-money times that all of us can appreciate.

Amazing tailgate. A big change in our big wagon. The window goes up into the roof, the tailgate goes down. Away tailgate vanishes beneath the floor. Out of sight. Out of your way for easy loading even in a crowded garage or when you have a trailer hooked on.

See what we mean by putting you first? September 29 at your Chevrolet dealer.

Clearing Property For New Playground

The Interim Assistance Program in conjunction with the City of Bay St. Louis has begun clearing property on Washington Street for a new playground. Robert Raighler, director of Operation Upturn said the playground would be ready in approximately 60 days.

Monday morning, the bus-hog, recently purchased by the city, began cutting grass and clearing debris. The playground will be on property localated adjacent to the water tower on Washington Street.

Installation of play ground equipment is scheduled to begin in the immediate future with Willie Acker heading a committee of volunteers who have agreed to donate their time toward this project. Those named on the committee include Thomas Favre, Harry Favre, Willie Bradley, Robert Price, Lionel Bradley, Jr. Herbert Dorsey, Sanders Bell and Sullivan Bell.

MAIN STREET PLAYGROUND With the exception of a chain-link fence scheduled to be erected in the near future, all equipment has been installed on the public Play Ground located on the corner of Main Street at Necaise Avenue. This excellent equipment includes swings, slide boards, 650-nets, jungle-gym, and merry-go-rounds for the children, as well as ball courts for older youths.

A committee of volunteer workers, headed by Committee chairman Jim McArthur, is said by Robert Raighler director of the Interim Assistance Program, to have saved the city a considerable amount of money by giving their labor toward this project.

Among those donating time toward erection of playground equipment were Robert Boudin, J.B. Hollingsworth, L. J. Gonzales, R. Van Peaky, J. McArthur, R. Davis, G. Thomas, Jr., Raymond Thomas, Curtis Thomas, Tony Machoot, Sheets Starita, Willie C. Acker, Willie Bradley, Sullivan Bell, Lionel Bradley, Jr., Cleveland Williams and Sterling Bell.

Added To Staff Curtis Hegwood has been added to the staff of the Hancock General Hospital, according to an announcement made by H.J. Blackledge, administrator for that institution. Hegwood will work in the hospital laboratory as a medical technologist. He is a recent graduate from Ole Miss and Mr. and Mrs. Hegwood are making their home on Carroll Avenue it was stated.

Boy Scout Program Growing

The Boy Scouts of America program is strong and growing in Hancock County, according to a recent report showing a total of 289 boys registered in three Cub packs, nine Scout troops and five Eagle Scouts. Approximately 100 members said to assist directly with this youth-centered program designed for the purpose of instilling into youths a strong sense of patriotism, citizenship, and moral character traits. Youths from the ages of 8 through 17 years are admitted into the organization. No race or color restrictions are placed upon boys of every race and every religion.

Organized in 1910, the Boy Scouts program has benefited 27,500,000 American boys who have learned many skills through a system of proficiency awards, and have enjoyed wholesome fellowship and rewarding field and camping trips. Scouting in this community is supported through the Hancock County United Fund program, according to Mrs. C. E. Bayer, who is a professional worker with the United Funds organization. Mrs. Bayer said: "Scouting is strong in our community because civic minded individuals and institutions not only show interest in youth but they DO SOMETHING ABOUT IT."

Individuals are urged to give generously to United Funds during this year's fund-raising campaign.

Stanislaus Stomped By Harrison Central

By Tim Ryan

The Harrison Central Red Rebels pushed by St. Stanislaus last Friday night at Bay High Stadium with a 42-8 win.

The Red Rebels got on the scoreboard just when Thomas Clayton, tailback, carried the ball 11 yards around end. The extra point attempt was blocked by Rocks' guard Eldo De-preo. The 2nd quarter saw 3 touchdowns, the first one came with 4:20 left on the clock when slot back Melvin Morgan of Harrison Central raced 24 yards off tackle for the second Red Rebel T.D. The extra point attempt was again blocked by De-preo.

The only touchdown for the rocks came with 2:31 left in the first half when quarterback David Worrell pitched out to fullback Norman Coward. Coward rolled out and passed to end Thomas Rilly, who carried the 51 yd. pass play in for the T.D. Worrell carried it over for the 2 pt. conversion.

The Rebels battled back to get on the scoreboard again and did when fullback Don Fredericks carried the ball around end for 10-yds. and another Harrison Central touchdown. The Red Rebels tried for a 2 pt. conversion with a pass that went incomplete.

The 2nd half brought 3 more touchdowns to Harrison Central, 2 on pass plays. With 9:02 to go in the 3rd quarter, quarter back Robert Cole hit end Suory Walker for 17 yards, and the Rebel's fourth T.D. Fredericks carried off tackle for the P.A.T. The rocks had to punt after failing to move the ball and the Rebels drove again to the one yd. line this time, where Clayton took it over for 6 more. Quarterback Cole made the 2 pt. attempt good with a keeper around end.

Harrison Central's final score came with 11:44 in the last quarter when Cole connected with Walker for a 68 yd. touchdown.

Running back Anthony Pittman, who had recovered a Rock-a-Chaw fumble previously, received a pitchout from Cole and raced around end for the 2 pt. conversion.

With only 15 seconds left in the half, Blaise threw a seven yard pass to Fabian Collins in the end zone. This time the two point conversion was successful and the score at halftime was 20-0.

PRC Wildcats Victorious Over Southwest Bears

After a topsy turvy first period which saw the Pearl River Junior College Wildcats twice penetrate the Southwest Junior College territory, only to lose the ball, the Wildcats pulled it all together in the second quarter to take an easy victory over the Bears 31-6.

Threatening early in the first quarter the Wildcats on a sustained drive, which carried them to the Southwest 10 yard line, lost the ball on the first pass of Quarterback Dennis Wilcon.

Early game fiasco seemed to plague the Sophomore Quarterback Wilcon when in the next series Wilcon's pass intended for Tight-end David Stewart was also picked off by the Bears.

Again in the first quarter the Wildcats were in scoring position on the 4 yard line of the Bears. The Wildcats fumbled and the Bears recovered, but their hopes of scoring were cut short when Wildcat Raymond Anderson intercepted to put a halt to the Southwest's drive.

After being held scoreless in the first quarter the Wildcat offense rolled first with a pass from Wilcon to David Stewart for a 48 yard touchdown pass 2 minutes into the second period. The point after by Gionias Penon was good and the Wildcats led 7-0, and the troubles of the first period were forgotten and the troubles for the Bears began.

A bad snap from the center which sent the ball out of the endzone put the Wildcats on the board for another two points and a 9-0 lead over the Bears.

Stalled on the next series Gene Estapa kicked a 30 yard field goal to give the Wildcats another 3 points to their growing lead. Skill in the explosive second quarter Lynn Patrick a freshman wing-back for the Wildcats got the ball and raced 43 yards for the score and with a successful point after attempt by Powell the half ended 19-0 PRC.

The Wildcats completely dominated both the air and the ground rushing for 256 yards against a 35 for the Bears and a weak defensive did little to stop the Wildcats passing game after the first period. In the air the Wildcats picked up 259 yards against 30 yards for the Bears.

With 12 minutes left of the third quarter Freshman Tailback James Harrison picked up 33 yards on the ground for another Wildcat score, the two point conversion attempt failed. The Southwest Bears made it on the board midway in the third period when Luke Brown intercepted a Wildcat pass from Freshman Quarterback Gene Estapa and ran the ball 65 yards for a touchdown. The extra point was wide and the Bears trailed 25-6.

The last score of the game came again from the arm of Dennis Wilcon who connected with a 20 yard pass play to Donald Bridges for the score. Another two point conversion attempt failed and the game ended PRC 31, the Southwest Bears 6.

The Lakeshore Garden Club enjoyed a very gratifying turnout for its September 17th meeting held at the Marcus Dr. home of Mrs. J. E. Sarvat.

A clear majority of the members present seemed very enthusiastic with regard to plans and actual work toward getting their yards in shape for a glorious flowering spring. So it is fervently hoped that each member will do her part and contribute to the beauty of our environment.

Mrs. R. L. Moffitt was in the cultivated arrangement category. Mrs. Henry Mathmann - horticultural specimen. Mrs. J.C. Goodlee - wild and Mrs. J.E. Sarvat - potted. The contest prize, a lovely potted ivy, was won by Mrs. E. P. Orr.

Firm Manufacturing Fabricated Schools

One of the new you don't see in the schoolhouse is the Rittner Industrial Inc. of Alexandria, La. Its accommodations, 430, already holding Plain Dealing, La. school, the school was pastured, as a handsome, pre-fabricated school can be erected in the buildings, which walls finished in, and both inside and completely finished.

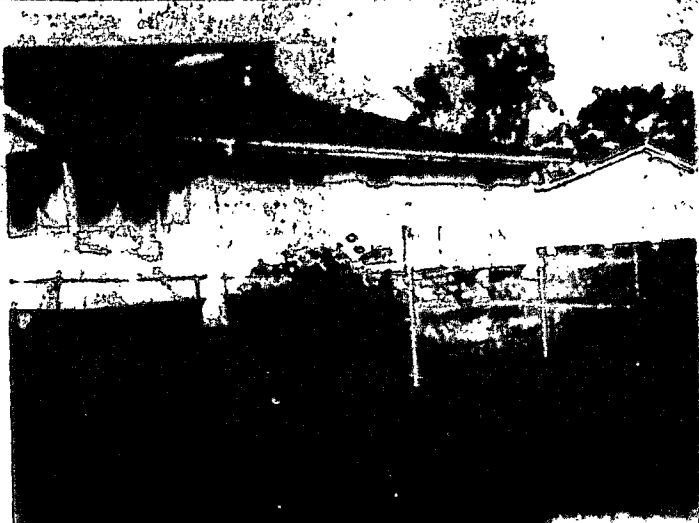

One of the best features of the school, Mr. Hoyt said, "in its cost. I calculated it is about $10 per square foot, which is less than half as much as the $20 per square foot most schools are costing."

The twin schools, South Rapides Academy and Plain Dealing Academy, each have 13 classrooms, a library with a vestibule for the library, an auditorium, a science laboratory, a cafeteria for the pupils and teachers, a teachers' lounge, and administrative offices. For the present, and until the cafeteria is built, children will bring their lunches. Plain Dealing Academy is building a gym.

"We've been building schools for about 25 years," W. J. Miller, one of the architects, said. "Particularly in recent years, we've been concerned about high construction costs, high interest rates on bonds. We have felt for a long time that a good, inexpensive, safe, comfortable and attractive schoolhouse which can be erected in a short time to needed all over the country, for public schools as well as private schools."

"For this reason, we were delighted to work with Lloyd Rittner on this project. Rittner too has been interested in good schoolhouse design for many years and served on the Orleans Parish School Board for thirteen years."

"We feel this new school is a real breakthrough, and we're working with public school boards as well as private schools. In the case of the schoolhouse, we can be erected in a short time to needed all over the country, for public schools as well as private schools."

"HOME OF THE VIBR" This home, located at 127 Boardman Avenue, Bay St. Louis and owned by Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Christy has been given special recognition by The Mayor's Committee on Cleanup and Beautification.

schools. In the case of South Rapides and Plain Dealing schools, we started from scratch. However, this kind of building will also serve admirably when additions are added to existing schools. With people moving around the way they do and subdivisions going up overnight, we really need a school house like this.

"Furthermore, this building is re-locatable. The wall panels can be taken down at any time and erected on another site."

Mr. Hoyt praised the maintenance advantage of the new school. "The walls will never have to be painted," he said, "and all we have to do to make them look like new is wash them." The precast is a special kind which is very chip-resistant.

John Dole, Jr., of Plain Dealing, La., is chairman of the board of the Plain Dealing Academy. He and his board saved a great deal of money by enlisting parents and friends as unpaid construction workers and putting up the building themselves.

G. B. Walker, an expert in erecting buildings of this kind, was sent by Rittner Industrial Framing Inc. to supervise erecting the pre-fabricated walls, which went up without difficulty.

Both the Plain Dealing Academy and the South Rapides Academy offer classes from first grade through high school. Parents pay from $40 to $60 a month tuition, depending upon the number of children in the family.

"Our school is completely independent," Mr. Hoyt said. "We're not accepting any tax money - not for books, lunches, transportation, teacher salaries or anything else. Furthermore, we are set up as a profit-making organization, even though we don't intend to make a profit, because we want to be completely independent. We expect to offer quality education."

Rainfalls Cause Mosquito Increase

Fresh water mosquitoes are on the increase in the Bay St. Louis area, according to Chris Elmore who is executive director of the Gulf Coast Mosquito Control Commission. Elmore said unusually heavy rainfalls during August and partly the cause and stated that an average of 10 to 15 inches of rainfall during the month increased and the commission measured 16.8 inches of rain in the area. Mosquitoes breed in standing water such as puddles, drainage ditches, barrels, cans and any container that will hold water. Elmore said the commission has been conducting a heavy fogging program throughout the troubled area. Salt marsh mosquito counts have been lower than normal this summer, Elmore added.

IAP To Begin Restoration On Waveland Town Hall

By Joe Pilet, Staff Writer

The historic old Town Hall located on Coleman Avenue in Waveland will soon be restored through the Interim Assistance Program, according to H. J. Hughes who is Projects Administrator for the program in Waveland. Mayor Garfield Ladner has been given assurance that the original masonry and architectural design of the exterior of the building will not be altered although extensive repairs are necessary. Plans are to provide thoroughly work the interior of the building in order to better utilize office space. Electrical and plumbing systems are to be re-worked, floors and walls will be re-worked and there will be the modernization required for comfort and efficiency of these offices.

Waveland's Town Hall has a colorful and interesting history. It was constructed in 1905 by one Jules Favre who was commissioned to build a sturdy and proper edifice to house eight grades of public school. It was well designed for its time and purpose. No important details were overlooked. Tall windows admitted plenty of light. They were placed just right to obtain good cross ventilation and capture the breezes coming across the Gulf and Mississippi Sound. There was a double flight of stairs leading to the landing then a single flight of six broad steps to the wide and long gallery with its protective banister rail. Double doors opened into a wide hall with its year-over heart pine floors and high "beaded" ceilings. "There was space for four class rooms", recalls Mayor Ladner who happened to be a pupil in Waveland's first public school. Ladner recalls in those days herosens lamps were the only lighting and while there were eight grades taught there were only four teachers. One teacher managed to conduct two or three grades simultaneously. Children walked miles to come to school and brought their lunches in tin pails. A school bell placed in the little cupola atop the building could be heard all over town. It summoned children to school and was rung as an alarm whenever there was a building on fire. Fighting a fire was every man's responsibility. At the sound of the alarm bell everybody came running. Able bodied men formed bucket-brigades. In fact, Ladner recalls the Town Hall itself was once saved by a bucket brigade when a chain of men got water from a fire that was climbing straight up the back walls of the building. That was in 1940 and the major says some of the old charred records are still in the vault and legible. Back in 1891 Waveland built a new school on Coleman Avenue and at that time the old building was converted into Town Hall. Prior to that time the Town Hall was located on Nicholson Avenue.

Garfield Ladner was born and raised in Waveland, and while the Town Hall is a "landmark", Ladner could be called an "institution". The Town Hall is 65 years old and has been the Town Hall for 39 years. Garfield Ladner is 81 years old and has been the town's Mayor for 28 consecutive years. In one election he didn't even have an opponent -- in every election he went into office in the first primary. Never a run-off. Garfield plans to run again. Shucks! There's longevity in that family. Ladner's Grandfather John B. Favre lived to be 101 and is buried in the Waveland Cemetery.

The Town Hall building is "second home" to Garfield Ladner -- just one regret about that building. He never did get to finish school, being one of thirteen children means making your own way early.

Ladner says he is very proud of Waveland. They have adopted the Southern Building Code, the Southern Standard Housing Code, the Southern Standard Plumbing Code, and the Southern Standard Gas Code and the National Electric Code. All of this is a lot of progress and this is the Mayor produced the original Town Charter which was approved March 6, 1898 during the time George M. Govan was Secretary of State and there's the signature of James K. Vardaman, Governor of the State of Mississippi in 1905 when the first amendment to the Charter was signed. The Charter was, of course, written for horse and buggy days and Ladner says he was mayor of Waveland when the first public garbage pick-up started with a wagon that was horse-drawn going around and collecting scraps and carting them off. Later on the chassis of an old school bus was converted into a garbage truck. Ladner recalls the first telephone in Waveland. There were two of them. That was all the town needed then. And he remembers the first time he ever went for a ride in a car. It was a Model T Ford and he said he was "Afraid to get in". It belonged to a boy from New Orleans who had just come over to spend the summer. And he naturally recalls his first airplane ride. That was this summer.

Turning over the pages of his mind Mayor Garfield Ladner recalls the days when sheep grazed in Waveland and Uman's Woolen Mill was located on Waveland Avenue. It was a large industry located just west of the railroad tracks. The mill was of frame construction. Made blankets and woolen shawls in large black and white blocks. The mill was dismantled when its machinery became obsolete and there are three houses still standing on Nicholson Avenue that were made from the salvaged wood from the old mill. Alfred Uman's father was the Mayor of Bay St. Louis and is buried in Cedar Rest Cemetery . . . Bay St. Louis has an Uman Avenue.

Waveland has been hard-hit by several hurricanes. The '47 storm up-ended sea wall for miles and bashed in homes, and the town was just getting restored from Betsy when Camille came along just over a year ago. But Waveland's people have a lot of spirit. They love their beautiful trees and being close to nature -- the salt spray and the waves and water and this time they have a better answer. Already 269 people have applied for grants, loans, or completion loans and grants and homes at the rate of

Students Participate In "Traveler" Program

The students of St. Stanislaus School in Bay St. Louis have begun participation in the Mississippi Economic Council's "Mississippi Traveler" program.

Developed as a means of encouraging elementary school students to visit sites of historical or current interest so as to acquire a greater interest in and appreciation of their state, the program is open to public and private elementary school students fourth grade and above. The program is designed to reach approximately 170,000 elementary students.

In announcing the participation of St. Stanislaus, John Daniel of South, chairman of the MEC's Committee on Tourism, said, "Teachers and school administrators across the state have reviewed the program and have indicated to the Council their belief in the value of the program as a teaching aid."

The request for the "Mississippi Traveler" brochures for use by school students came from Brodley Leo Barker, S.C.

When students participating in the program have visited a minimum of ten of the 144 selected sites listed in the program brochure, they will be awarded the honorary title of "Mississippi Traveler" by means of a certificate signed by the Governor and the president of the Mississippi Economic Council.

Since visited between June 1, 1970, and April 1, 1971, may be included in the required visits. According to program rules, which are listed in the "Mississippi Traveler" brochure, when a student has visited the required number of sites his brochure should be forwarded to the Council.

"When visiting a site, the student should be accompanied by his teacher, parent, or guardian, who is to initial the brochure by each site visited."

Bay High Announces Scholarship Semifinalist

Principal Ronald V. Mingo announced that one student at Bay Senior High School has been named Semifinalist in the 1970-71 National Merit Scholarship Program.

The student is Patricia Brammeyer, of Waveland, Miss.

The 14,790 Semifinalists reported today are among the nation's most intellectually talented high school seniors. They will compete for some 3,000 Merit Scholarships to be awarded in 1971.

The Semifinalists were the highest scorers in their states on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (NMQST) which was given last February to some 710,000 students in 17,000 schools nationwide. The competitive tests are one per cent of the graduating secondary school seniors in the United States.

The Semifinalists show high promise for leadership in their adult careers, according to Edward C. Smith, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation (NMSC). "They have already demonstrated both high intellectual capacity and a readiness to develop their abilities," he said.

"These students deserve credit and honor. They bring honor to their families, who deserve much credit, as do their teachers, and their community. The future success of these young people will, however, depend upon their ability to become productive at the high intellectual levels that they are capable of attaining."

Semifinalists must advance to Finalist standing to be considered for the Merit Scholarships to be awarded next spring. Semifinalists become Finalists by receiving the endorsement of their schools, substantiating their high NMQST performance on a second examination, and providing information about their achievements and interests.

About 63 per cent of the Semifinalists are expected to become Finalists, and each will be considered for one of the 1,000 National Merit $1000 Scholarships which are allocated by state. Many will also be considered for the renewable four-year Merit Scholarships provided by some 500 corporations, foundations, colleges, unions, trusts, professional associations, other organizations, and individuals. Each Finalist will receive a Certificate of Merit in recognition of his outstanding performance in the program.

Winners of four-year Merit Scholarships may receive up to $1,500 a year for four college years, depending on their individual need. Winners of the National Merit $1000 Scholarship will receive their non-renewable one-time awards upon enrollment as full-time students in accredited U.S. Colleges or universities.

High school grades, accomplishments, leadership qualities, and extracurricular activities of the Finalists are evaluated, along with test scores, in selecting Merit Scholarship winners.

NMSC identifies the Semifinalists to all regionally accredited colleges and universities and to certain scholarships-granting agencies and other sources of financial aid. Studies in former years have shown that about half of the Semifinalists received financial aid from sources other than the Merit Program.

NAMES of the winners in the 1970-71 Merit Scholarship Program will be announced in the spring of 1971. Some 24,800 students have received Merit Scholarships in the fifteen annual programs to date. About $14 million in financial assistance to Merit Scholars and their colleges has been expected or committed through the Merit Program.

Patricia's activities include membership in the Band, Math Club, Science Club, and French Club. She is on the Yearbook regular duck hunting opens in November but a nine-day teal season last Saturday and Sunday local hunters were highly motivated to shoot the highly prized teal. When it came to eating, teal ducks were the best in our way of life. Teal cooked by Chico were how to prepare them, wrapped in a slice of they are fit for a king. Ducks are one of the fast-growing birds hunted. They fly low and in flocks, all along the highways. They were seen hunters in and hip boots which are in vogue in shallow lakes, marshes.

PATRICIA BRAMMEYER Staff and is a member of the Junior Red Cross and the National Honor Society. She was named Queen of the St. Patrick's Day Parade in 1970 and has been a Girl Scout for 10 years.

Patricia is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Brammeyer, Waveland, Mississippi.

member when hunting any of ducks, geese or other fowls, a federal duck must be purchased and to your hunting license, the signature of the purchaser. Regulations are strict and the penalties stiff. The special season lasts nine days and two weekends.

The first segment of the season is practically over. Second segment of the three season opens in October. It would be a better one as cooler weather should bring migratory birds. Most doves killed in the first of the season were mostly birds. Not too many were killed.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Callahan and their family, Beverly, love their fishing and hunting. They were catching them in Bayou Caddy over the weekend. They had as their guest, Tommy Morgan of Montgomery, Ala., who also got the quota of the fishy tribe.

Mrs. Helen Rouser is quite a fisherman. She goes on every occasion. It is a lot of fun catching them, she claimed.

Lou Williams of Waveland says there is nothing better for what ails you than fishing. A tug on the line gives one a thrill. We agree with you, fellow.

Al Champagne enjoys any kind of fishing. Catching flounders and soft crabs is his specialty, we think. Like his name we enjoy that too.

James and Violet Ulasaty are down from Motena, Illinois visiting Maurico and Gladys Henessay in Waveland. They hope to catch some flounders and speckle trout while down this way. There is a lot of floundering done over the bar at Charise's in Waveland.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Haggerty will celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary this coming Saturday with their children and friends in New Orleans. Will be on hand for sure, kids.

There are some speckle trout and red fish being caught up Jordan River according to Al Mercier and Andy Martinovich who were after them last week. Both fellows do quite a bit of fishing together and know how to catch 'em. Ask Al!

Won't be long until October when the squirrel season opens. We are told there are plenty of the bushy tails in the woods. Squirrel stew is mighty good eating and killing them is a lot of fun too.

A bartender said: Please remain seated while the room is in motion.

If fish won't bite and you can't catch a few, remember the mighty oak was once a nut like you.

T.J. (Tooby) Necaise says he hasn't fished for a long time but

SPORTSMAN OF THE WEEK
RAY GARNER would rather fish and hunt than eat. If you don't believe me ask him. Ray goes whenever possible and usually gets his share. A brother of the late Fred Garner, he has been at it a long time.

has been giving hard crabs fits. They have been giving real good for the past month he said.

Carl Thibeaux and Harold Saucier have been catching some nice speckles out by the marsh. They usually bring home enough hard crabs for a crab boil for their friends.

Edmund (Moon) Tomastich and Jimmy Johnson are commercial shrimpers and fishermen. They are young but have been at their trade a long time. Both have their own boat, the Lisa Ann and the Edith Pearl. Leaving Bayou Caddy each day when the weather permits they return the same day with shrimp, fish, crabs and occasionally a few soft crabs. Edmund and Jimmy are interesting to listen to when telling of their experiences on the water.

Heard a lot of shooting while fishing over the weekend. Some hunters must have given teal ducks a rough time. More on this next week.

Dick Mestayer and John Scatfield caught a few (very few) green trout and perch Sunday. Too much high tide and wind.

Glad to hear that Gene Davis is home after a stay in the hospital. Better get ready for a squirrel hunt, buddy.

La France's Camp will be a real busy place soon. Almost time for the bull croakers to make their appearance at the croaker hole in Pearl River. These good eating fish run from 2 to 2 1/2 pounds. Commercial fishermen have been catching a few recently in their shrimp nets. Catching bull croakers is a lot of fun any old time.
